

Tree Planting Program

Tree Planting Initiatives

Along with honouring those who have already passed away, we also try to preserve the future. With each sale of one of our wood casket products, we plant a tree as a part of an initiative to keep our planet Earth healthier. The saplings will be planted twice a year, early spring, and late autumn. This is to ensure the best odds for these fledgling trees to survive and start growing.

Our Pledge in Preserving Our Future

As You Buy Our Products, We Will Plant a Tree

Why Are We Doing This?

The effects of deforestation cannot be overlooked. They are not only concerning but also getting worse, and we can only blame ourselves. Trees are among the most visible and significant living things on the planet, and we must find a way to preserve healthy forests for future generations' sake.

Approximately fifteen billion trees are cut down each year. It is a frightening figure that is almost impossible to believe, but it is true. National Geographic refers to deforestation as a “modern-day plague,” and climate scientists cite it as a major cause of global warming. It is undeniably damaging to our atmosphere and our world.

We aim to be an environmentally friendly casket company as much as possible in all facets of our business operation. In addition to planting trees, we promote our local products, and we use 100% recyclable packaging products. We reuse as many materials as possible in our manufacturing process. So, we did not only do “nothing wrong” but also “in a right way.”

Your little act of kindness can make a difference. We invite you to join us to make a move to protect our planet Earth.
